

Thoughts About Time

You will never find time for anything. If you want time you must make it.

— Charles Buxton

Do not wait; the time will never be "just right." Start where you stand, and work with whatever tools you may have at your command, and better tools will be found as you go along.

— Napoleon Hill

Time is the coin of your life. It is the only coin you have, and only you can determine how it will be spent. Be careful lest you let other people spend it for you.

— Carl Sandburg

Nothing is a waste of time if you use the experience wisely.

— Auguste Rodin

Every moment is a golden one for him who has the vision to recognize it as such.

— Henry Miller

Time is but the stream I go a-fishing in.

— Henry David Thoreau

Don't say you don't have enough time. You have exactly the same number of hours per day that were given to Helen Keller, Pasteur, Michaelangelo, Mother Teresa, Leonardo da Vinci, Thomas Jefferson, and Albert Einstein.

— H. Jackson Brown, Jr.

Much may be done in those little shreds and patches of time which every day produces, and which most men throw away.

— Charles Caleb Bolton

The future is something which everyone reaches at the rate of 60 minutes an hour, whatever he does, whoever he is.

— C. S. Lewis
