

Thoughts About Timing

The beginning is the most important part of the work.

—Plato

A journey of a thousand miles must begin with a single step.

—Chinese proverb

“Begin at the beginning”, the King said gravely, “and go till you come to the end, then stop.”

—Lewis Carroll

You cannot afford to wait for perfect conditions. Goal setting is often a matter of balancing timing against available resources. Opportunities are easily lost while waiting for perfect conditions.

—Gary Blair

It is never too late to be what you might have been.

—George Eliot

Don't wait. The time will never be just right.

—Napoleon Hill

Forget past mistakes. Forget failure. Forget everything except what you're going to do now—and do it!

—William Durant

This is the beginning of a new day. You have been given this day to use as you will. You can waste it or use it for good. What you do today is important because you are exchanging a day of your life for it. When tomorrow comes, this day will be gone forever; in its place is something that you have left behind,... let it be something good.
